

Tania Pastrana received a medical degree from the Universidad de Caldas (Colombia), a degree in sociology, social anthropology, and social psychology from the University of Munich (Germany), and a Doctorate in Medical Anthropology and Psychosomatic from the University of Munich and the Max Planck Institute. Since 2007, Tania has been working at the Department of Palliative Medicine at the RWTH Aachen University (Germany), where she leads the WG Global Palliative Care. She serves as research adviser to the International Association for Hospice and Palliative Care (IAHPC).